Lynn Schramm works as a Division Area Coordinator for the Arts & Letters Division Office at Golden West College. The Arts and Letters division is responsible for a wide range of subjects, including English, Communication Studies, World Languages, ESL, Theater, Dance, Music, Photography, Sign Language/Interpreting, Education, Peace Studies, Journalism, Art Gallery, Language Lab, Computer Lab, Photography Lab, and the Writing Center.

Lynn's duties include an array of activities that are essential to the day-to-day operation of the Division.

She meets with the Division Dean, staff, faculty, students, and community members on a regular basis. She is also involved in faculty scheduling, the Division budget, processing time cards, absence reports, conference and Board requests, and numerous other office duties that are critical to the efficient operation of the division.

Although the above duties are all part of Lynn's responsibilities at Golden West College, it is in her interaction with the students where she finds the most rewarding experiences. Lynn welcomes students into the division office, regardless of whether they come with questions, comments or even complaints. She strives to foster an open environment where the students feel valued and know that their issues will be addressed. Lynn indicated that, "My heart is here for our students. I want them to know how much we care about their success and that we are here to help them grow, learn, and achieve."

"My heart is here for our students. I want them to know how much we care and that we are here to help them grow, learn, and achieve."

Lynn is currently attending Pepperdine University with the goal of obtaining her BSM degree. She has also joined a women's ministry group called, The Well, which is a place where industry and artistry meet ministry. This organization is in the early stages of development, but their goal is to become a hub for women who are starting a new business with the intention of helping and serving the community at large.

Family and friends play a big role in Lynn's life. She has a daughter named Tiffany and a son named Benjamin. Her daughter, Tiffany, attended Rutgers on a gymnastics scholarship and is studying for her Masters Degree in Strategic Communication and Leadership, while working for CNBC. Her son, Benjamin, is an entrepreneur and is very creative. He recently began his own company while living in Seal Beach.

Lynn loves to spend time with her family and friends. She enjoys sailing, hiking, eating out, going to plays, playing board games or just relaxing with nice conversation. She also enjoys time with her two Yorkies and would like to one day learn to play golf.

The CFCE is honored to have such an outstanding-classified employee working for the Coast Community College District.
